

STORM SUMMARY 1-19-17

The multiple days of rain continued as temperatures have been in the mid thirties during the day and teetered on the 32 degree freezing range during the overnight hours. Wednesday's rain sat on the pavement and sidewalks as these temperatures hit freezing and caused surfaces to slick up. The areas were selective based on surfaces that held more moisture; these areas were the worst and needed treatment for the morning rush hour. Salt trucks were dispatched at midnight to check all properties for areas that iced over.
