

STORM SUMMARY 1-3-18

Another weak system produced some headaches for the area for the morning commute thanks to some light snow, snow showers and flurries. The activity spread into the area from northwest to southeast. Beginning around 1-2 am at Rockford and reaching O'Hare just prior to 3 am. The activity didn't get into Will and southern Cook County till 4-5 am. The intensities were quite variable within the activity as some areas only reported trace amounts while others got close to an inch. Temperatures were in the single digits to lower teens which made treating surfaces difficult.
