ACTION ALERT

There may be a brief period of light snow/freezing drizzle at the onset, then mainly a short period of light snow. Surfaces could possibly whiten up initially but by 8:30-9AM surface temperatures should rise above 32 degrees. Our concern will be for the early morning operating hours between 6-9AM when conditions have the potential to be very dangerous. All zero tolerance locations will be monitored and serviced to maintain safe pedestrian and vehicular surfaces.
